

Security

This document is to assure our commitment to maintaining your confidentiality.

H264 Ltd undertakes sensitive work for government and military customers and is fully committed to working within security classifications.

We recognise that much our work is subject to the Official Secrets Act and our staff are fully aware of its constraints, requirements and implications on working practice.

Similarly for non-governmental customers who wish us to maintain their security measures we will be happy to cooperate.

Please contact our Head Office for further information.
